

Frosty Learning
FUN!

Meet Miss Fielder:

I'm excited to be apart of Mrs. Shiflett's Third Grade class this year. Starting January 3rd until the end of April I will be teaching alongside Mrs. Shiflett. I am a student at Ferris State University and honored to be able to finish out my teaching degree with your class. I look forward to getting to know you and your child more.

-Alyssa Fielder

WRITING: In class we began discussing a new type of writing called realistic fiction stories. Ask your child what realistic fiction is. (A story that could happen in real life but has made up characters.) Next week, we will start to brainstorm some story ideas of our own.

COMPLETE SENTENCES: We have been talking in class about making sure we are writing in complete sentences. This is something students should be doing on any of their written work. Please stress to your child the importance of writing complete sentences.

Ask Your Child:

- Why did European's come to Michigan?
 - What is realistic fiction? (a made up story that could happen in real life)
- Are you writing all classwork in your best penmanship?

TEACHER NOTES

- Popcorn Friday January 13 & 27
- End of Marking Period January 13th
- No School January 16th

Congrats to the following students who turned in their December Book It! Calendars. These students read 20 every day in December!
